

GIVE UP GRUDGE, REUSCHLE MURDER

Police Believe Mate Was Killed in Sudden Encounter With Lawbreakers.

SUSPECT IS ABSOLVED

Fifth Man of Party Arrested by Policeman Gives Up and Proves Alibi.

MAN AND WOMAN HELD

Persons With Criminal Records Have Detailed Reports of Riverside Slaying.

The theory that Policeman Joseph A. Reuschle, who was shot dead early Wednesday morning while on duty at 163rd street and Riverside Drive, was the victim of some sudden encounter with lawbreakers and was not killed to satisfy a grudge, was strengthened yesterday when the last of five men he arrested early this month, and who were supposed to bear ill will against him, appeared voluntarily at the District Attorney's office and insisted that he had nothing to do with the crime.

The man, who is known both as Joseph Curry and Joseph Casey, was never in trouble with the police before Reuschle arrested him and four companions on September 4 when they were driving along Riverside Drive late at night. In court the next day he charged them with having carried weapons, but they were held on a charge of misdemeanor when it developed that although they were pistols in the car they were using none of them was actually carrying a weapon.

Man and Woman Arrested.

At Police Headquarters last night Curry told the police that for the last two weeks he had been living with a woman and another man in an apartment in 450 West Fifty-third street. Detectives Oswald and Tully went to the house and took to Police Headquarters Joseph Spitz and Anna May. Spitz, the detectives said, has served terms in Sing Sing and his picture is in the Rogues' Gallery, while the woman is said to have admitted serving a sentence in a Michigan prison.

Oswald and Tully said that on a bureau they found many clippings telling of the murder of Reuschle, and other clippings telling of the arrest of the five men in an automobile. Spitz had a revolver in a police holster and a pair of police nippers. He said the gun was his, and Curry said that he had an argument once with a subway guard and took the nippers and the holster away from him.

Spitz told the police that he knew nothing of the murder of the policeman, but he was placed under arrest when it was charged he admitted complicity in the attempted holdup of a jeweler in 1590 Southern Boulevard, The Bronx, on September 23, when two shots were fired in an automobile. Spitz had a revolver in a police holster and a pair of police nippers. He said the gun was his, and Curry said that he had an argument once with a subway guard and took the nippers and the holster away from him.

Curry Offers Alibi.

Curry told Acting District Attorney Baughman yesterday that he was asleep in a Turkish bath in Second avenue at the hour Reuschle was killed and later proved that he told the truth. Three of the other men arrested with Curry, Henry Garfunkel, Edward Lewis and Abraham Meckler, have told stories that have satisfied the police so far. The fifth man, Samuel Block, has been in the Tomb since his arrest. Garfunkel has explained that he was driving a taxicab at Coney Island when Reuschle was killed, Lewis says that he was with Curry at a Turkish bath and Meckler insists he was at his home. Only one of the five men—the police will not say which one—ever was arrested before Reuschle's slaying.

Capt. Arthur Carey, head of the homicide bureau at Police Headquarters and in charge of the investigation into the policeman's death, said yesterday that he was more convinced than ever that Reuschle was killed while attempting to stop an automobile containing persons who either had committed a crime or were about to commit one. He said that he was not waiting for the men to be taken to the morgue to be identified. He went to Yonkers yesterday, with the pieces of an automobile headlight glass that had been found near the scene of the slaying, in the hope that they might fit a car with a broken light which was being repaired in a shop there. The clue, however, proved to be a false one.

The dead policeman's funeral will be held to-morrow morning from St. Edmund's Episcopal Church at 17th street and Morris avenue, The Bronx. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery and there will be a police escort of an inspector, two captains, four lieutenants and eighty patrolmen.

HIS RENTALS ARE FAIR, SAYS NATHAN HIRSCH

Thinks Tenants Tried to 'Blackmail' Him to Cut Rates

Increases in rentals of apartments in the house at 22 West Sixty-third street were defended yesterday by Nathan Hirsch, president of the Arenal Realty Company, which owns the property. Mr. Hirsch said the tenants had received notice that after October 1 they would be required to pay enough rent to make the property pay 8 per cent. This, he said, was 2 per cent under the "legal" rate.

"The tenants complain because the incorporated company operating this house has advanced the rents of the seven rooms from $12 a month to $13 a month. The net income from this house was 4 1/2 per cent, on the equity in 1920. During the three previous years the property showed a return of about 2 1/2 per cent. The increases will net the stockholders about 8 per cent on the equity and they surely are entitled to this return on their investment.

"Because I was at one time chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Rent Profiteering some of the tenants had mistaken me into giving them their apartments at a loss. That is where they were in judgment, for the same spirit of fair play which governed the Mayor's committee while I was chairman governs the realty companies of which I am president. If those tenants think they are oppressed all they have to do is to come to me and prove it."

PHIL DALY'S WIDOW AN OBJECT OF CHARITY

Was Once Mistress of Elaborate Establishment in Long Branch, Where Her Husband Conducted Noted and Prosperous Gambling Club.

Mrs. Catherine Daly, widow of Phil Daly, once the wealthy proprietor of the Pennsylvania Club in Long Branch, one of the most famous and elaborate gaming houses of its time, has become an object of charity.

Mrs. Daly a quarter of a century ago was the mistress of an elaborate establishment in Long Branch, N. J. The turn-of-the-century which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

In the days of the prosperity, before the turn of fortune's wheel began to run against them, both Phil Daly and Mrs. Daly were open handed in their alms giving. The Phil Daly House Company, a sporting man whom Mrs. Daly once befriended. As he did not wish to have her name used in the affair, Mrs. G. Henry Irwin consented to act as treasurer and a canvass for funds has been started. Since then many inquiries have been received from former friends asking how they can help.

Nearly two decades have passed since Mrs. Daly left Long Branch. After the sale of the old club house she is said to have lived chiefly upon the proceeds of two mortgages which she placed upon her two Chelsea avenue cottages. Her available funds gradually became exhausted. Two of her daughters, Katie, wife of Walter R. Patten, and Margaret, widow of Henry Trenchard Chaffin, died several years ago. They were buried in Mount Carmel Cemetery, West Long Branch, in a mausoleum which is fast falling into decay. The other two children, Marie, wife of "Dart" MacCallister, and Philip Daly, Jr., live in New York. The latter, once a well known wing shot and owner of the Elbowood Park traps, has not been in Long Branch in a long time.

HARLEM HARVEST GRAS ATTRACTS 200,000

125th Street in Big Blaze of Light and Decoration for Carnival Parade.

TWO QUEENS IN MOTORS 2,000 Children in Procession and Many Floats Present Numerous Features.

More than 200,000 persons lined 125th street last night for Harlem's Mardi Gras. It was the largest parade, in point of numbers witnessing and participating, that has been seen in Harlem since the custom of holding an annual carnival was instituted in 1914, and was the most successful from an artistic and decorative point of view. It took the column forty-five minutes to pass the reviewing stand.

Lee Bachrach, grand marshal, led the column with his aids, Francis Wright Clinton, chairman of the carnival committee; Dr. C. C. Watkins, A. Allen Murphy, Dr. J. Gardner Smith, James Pringle, George Pelt, Oscar Hunter and Edward Koch. Close behind the marshal and his aids was Miss Letitia Mathews, queen of the carnival, in a decorated automobile. She wore the royal cape and cap and bell. Miss Dorothy Small, the beauty queen, followed in another car. She won the first prize of the carnival, which was $200.

Two thousand children were in the column, half of whom were dressed in carnival gowns. Among the features, led from numerous floats, were thirty dancing girls from Prof. Liebowitz's Dancing School; the "Strong Man," impersonated by George Hoffman; the Head Hunters of the Philippines, Manuel Prendes as the "Ham Actor" and his brother, Harry, as "Charlie Chaplin"; the "South Sea Islanders," led by Mrs. Annie Mackay; the "Butterfly Girl," "Harlem Honeydoers" and the "Ku Klux Klan."

The parade started at the Harlem Boys' Community House, Lexington avenue and 127th street, went east to Third avenue, south to 128th street, east to First avenue and then south to 125th street, where it turned west and continued on to Roosevelt Square, or Manhattan avenue, where it disbanded. There were three bands in the parade. One of the floats appeared for work for unemployed ex-soldiers and another called attention to the fact that Harlem merchants do a business of $100,000,000 a year.

TWO BROOKLYN FERRIES TO BE SEIZED BY CITY Company Has Violated Its Franchise, Says Whalen.

The Sinking Fund Commissioners yesterday approved recommendations by Grover C. Whalen, Commissioner of Plant and Structures, for the acquisition by the city of the Hamilton avenue and Atlantic avenue ferries. The properties would be taken through condemnation proceedings. A public hearing has been set by the commissioners for November 1.

Commissioner Whalen said the Union Ferry Company, now operating the ferries, had violated its franchise, either for three or four years, and that the city should take them over. He added that the company had permitted the city's property on the Manhattan side at Whitehall street to deteriorate. Communications from Murray Hulbert, Dock Commissioner, regarding the pollution of the water by the ferries, and the city's refusal to accept the company's offer to refund the cost of the ferries, were referred to the committee of the whole.

An application from the Jersey Coast Ferry Company for a franchise to operate a ferry between Jersey City, N. J., and South Amboy, N. J., was received from the commissioner and referred to the committee of the whole. It was urged that the ferry be taken over because of insufficiency of the present service and because it would open up a direct route from New York to the Jersey coast resorts and Philadelphia.

LA GUARDIA TO HAVE OPERATION ON BACK Aldermanic President Suffering Much Pain.

F. H. La Guardia, president of the Board of Aldermen, will be operated on Saturday or Sunday for what was diagnosed yesterday by Dr. Frank C. Yeoman, of 121 West Seventy-first street, as an abscess near the spine. Although it has not been finally decided, Mr. La Guardia said he probably would go to Roosevelt Hospital.

Mr. La Guardia has been in pain for more than a week. Yesterday he was obliged to leave his office at City Hall and go to his home at 1852 University avenue, The Bronx. Mrs. La Guardia, who has been in poor health for some time, has been out of town all summer and is still away.

LINER AMERICAN LEGION ENDS FASTEST RIO TRIP Breaks Record Between Sandy Hook and Brazil's Capital.

The Munson liner American Legion, which arrived at Rio Janeiro at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, broke the record between Sandy Hook and the Brazilian capital, covering the distance, more than 4,700 miles, in eleven days, one hour and forty minutes, according to a cable to the line.

Her best previous record was twelve days and eleven and a half hours. Since the Munson Line, whose fleet flies the Stars and Stripes, began its South American service last year and a half ago it has cut down the sailing time between Rio and this port from sixteen days to the record the American Legion made yesterday.

The crack Lamport & Holt liner Vestris, which sailed hence for Rio two days ahead of the American Legion, was due to arrive at Rio late yesterday. The time of the Vestris's arrival was about three days faster than that of the Vestris, which flies the British flag.

Advertisement.

Worsted—The Best Cloth for Men's Wear.

Worsted is made of wool of the finer sort; a shape keeping cloth that wears splendidly, besides the appearance is attractive. Little necessity for extra trousers, because worsted is the ideal trouser cloth. Suit $36. There is a clear saving of $10 on these suits made possible through my making my ready made clothes. G. N. VINCENT, 524 6th Ave. bet. 31st and 32d Sts.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

A Presentation that will interest women. . . . Do you realize how low prices of Oriental rugs have fallen? . . . Old words, whose loveliness increases. . . . A few words with men.

John Wanamaker

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co.

Broadway at Ninth, New York.

Open from 9 to 5:30.

Telephone 4700 Stuyvesant.

A Father's Love in Some Respects Outshines

all but the mother's. He is a busy father, much absent, hard pressed with laborious work and unending cares, but never forgets the true son, for whom he would at any time give up his life.

The softness, gentleness and sweetness of mother is ever a full alabaster box, but the boy remembers that his father's strong, steady arm always seemed to him as mighty as that of Samson in his first years.

[Signed]

John Wanamaker
September 30, 1921.

Oriental Rugs at very advantageous prices

When you see the rugs you will better appreciate how advantageous these special prices are.

Size	Mahal	Special Price
12.6 x 7.1 ft.	$275	$149
10 x 8.4 ft.	$275	$175
12.7 x 8.6 ft.	$350	$175
10.1 x 8.8 ft.	$375	$200
11.7 x 8.10 ft.	$375	$225
12 x 8.1 ft.	$375	$225
12 x 8.10 ft.	$375	$225
11.7 x 8.10 ft.	$375	$225
12.4 x 8.8 ft.	$325	$185
13.10 x 10.6 ft.	$550	$325

Sarouk

11.8 x 8.5 ft.	$650	$325
12.2 x 8.6 ft.	$850	$425
12.3 x 8.8 ft.	$1050	$525
12.1 x 9 ft.	$1100	$550
10.9 x 8 ft.	$875	$550
12.9 x 8.10 ft.	$1150	$695
10.8 x 9 ft.	$975	$695
13.6 x 10.6 ft.	$1450	$750

Third Gallery, New Building

The Women's Fashion Salons present

The Autumn Mode

in COATS WRAPS SUITS

The collection is one of great distinction. The fabrics are new. The styles are authoritative. The prices are decidedly moderate—$35 to $595.

Individual taste has been well considered, for here we have youthful capes for afternoon and evening wear, wraps for the older woman, coats to wear on all occasions, and suits to answer every need.

MATERIALS include velvet, cashmere, duvetyne, moussine, Pollyanna cloth, marvella, duvet de laine, wondora, duvetyne.

FUR TRIMMINGS include, monkey, squirrel both in the natural color and dyed Kolinsky brown, lynx, black and natural caracul, beaver.

COLORS—Black, of course, for it is still the smartest, navy blue, beige, taupe, the many soft shades of brown, and a few in Volney red.

Several groups demand special mention:

IN THE COAT SALON

Wraps of velvet trimmed with mink fur show the influence of Paris in every line—$200 to $595.

Full straight coats of soft deep pile fabrics, often with a fur collar. Each model has some touch of individuality; a row of stitching, a different collar, or perhaps a new treatment of the belt.

A model of wondora has wolf collar and cuffs—$110.

A coat of Pollyanna cloth has a circular flare accented by silk stitching, $98.50.

Coats with fur collars and without, with flaring lines and slim, $85 and $58.

Coats at $49.50 are very unusual for this price. Generously cut of good materials, they have the grace of more expensive models.

From the simplest cloth suit to the most luxurious velvet cape, the quality of the materials and the workmanship are unexcelled.

A word must be said for the linings

Crepes, plain and brocaded, radium silks and soft satins in dull tones or black, blend pleasantly into the frock or blouse worn underneath.

Second Floor, Old Building

IN THE SUIT SALON

Unusual bits of trimming, wooden beads, inserts of fur, lend interest to copies of imported models, $125 to $495.

Silk and wool cashmere, a delightful fabric, in custom made suits with three-quarter length jackets—$135.

The flaring jacket of a wool cashmere suit has a collar and cuffs of wolf, $125.

Slender tailors of velvetyne are collared, each model differently, with beaver or squirrel, $98.50.

Kolinsky dyed squirrel makes the collar and pockets of a moussine suit. This is the model we have in red—and it is lined with red crepe de chine—$79.50.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.

At $58.50 and $39.50 there are attractive suits on tailored lines. Some have fur collars.